These changes (see link in Tim's email below) may be going live later today, perhaps, when R8 updates the Pavillion web page:

1) Addition of "September 26, 2012" section to "What's New?"
- Statement on USGS release of data (MW01) and SAP.

2) Update to "February 8" of What's New section
- Charge question comments added.

3) Minor edits of draft report links

Are we okay with these changes and the updated web page? Neither the release of the EPA summary of results or the EPA data tables are included in this update.

This is the latest version, only visible behind the EPA firewall:
<http://wcmsprd-dev-staging4.epa.gov/region8/superfund/wy/pavillion>

Here's what the public sees (the Sep. 26 and Feb. 8 items are not updated on the live version):
<http://www.epa.gov/region8/superfund/wy/pavillion>

As soon as Jim tells me to publish the page (and Ayn, you are totally correct: it could also involve publishing the USGS MW02 report and its 12 appendices, so we definitely need to be ready; I'll work with you on that part--Jim thinks that creating a new Phase 5 Web page is a good idea), I'll let you all know.

Thanks!
